PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

GENERAL

REX Stores Corporation (the "Company") is a leader in the consumer electronics/appliance retailing industry, locating its stores in small to medium sized markets. Since 1980, when its first four stores were acquired, the Company has expanded into a national chain operating 228 stores in 35 states under the trade name "REX." The Company's stores average approximately 10,900 square feet and offer a broad selection of brand name products within selected major product categories including televisions, video and audio equipment and appliances.

The Company's business strategy emphasizes depth of selection within its key product categories. Brand name products are offered at everyday low prices combined with frequent special sales and promotions. The Company concentrates its stores in small and medium sized markets where it believes that by introducing a high volume, low price merchandising concept, it can become a dominant retailer. The Company supports its merchandising strategy with extensive newspaper advertising in each of its local markets and maintains a knowledgeable sales force which focuses on customer service. The Company believes its low price policy, attention to customer satisfaction and deep product selection provide customers with superior value.

The Company's expansion strategy is to continue to open stores in small to medium sized markets. The Company will focus on markets with a newspaper circulation which can efficiently and cost-effectively utilize the Company's print advertising materials and where the Company believes it can become a dominant retailer.

The Company was incorporated in Delaware in 1984 under the name Audio/Video Affiliates, Inc. as a holding company to succeed to the entire ownership of three affiliated corporations, Rex Radio and Television, Inc. ("Rex Radio & TV"), Stereo Town, Inc. ("Stereo Town") and Kelly & Cohen Appliances, Inc. ("Kelly & Cohen"), which were formed in 1980, 1981, and 1983, respectively. Effective August 2, 1993, the Company's name was changed to REX Stores Corporation to enable the investing and consuming public to identify the Company more closely with its retail business. Unless the context otherwise requires, the term "Company" as used in this report refers to REX Stores Corporation and its three operating subsidiaries, and all references in this report to fiscal years are to the Company's fiscal year ended January 31 of each year. The Company's principal offices are located at 2875 Needmore Road, Dayton, Ohio 45414. Its telephone number is (937) 276-3931.

BUSINESS STRATEGY

The Company's objective is to be a dominant consumer electronics and home appliance retailer in each of its markets. The key elements of its business strategy include:

Focus on Small and Medium Sized Markets. The Company concentrates its stores in small and medium sized markets (generally with populations of 30,000 to 300,000) which enables it to operate on a low overhead basis and enhances its ability to become a dominant retailer in an area.

Depth of Product Selection. The Company sells brand name products and emphasizes depth of product selection within its key product categories. The Company offers merchandise at a range of price points in each product category and generally maintains sufficient product stock for immediate delivery to customers.

Everyday Low Prices. The Company offers its products at everyday low prices combined with frequent special sales and promotions. The Company monitors prices at competing stores and adjusts its prices as necessary to meet or beat the competition. The Company guarantees the lowest price on its products through a policy of refunding 125% of the difference between the Company's price and a competitor's price on the same item.

Price/Product Focused Advertising. The Company's advertising stresses the offering of nationally recognized brands at significant savings and emphasizes its low price guarantee. The Company supports its marketing strategy principally with extensive newspaper advertising. The Company also utilizes in-store sales promotions to provide shopping excitement and generate traffic.

Strong Operational Controls. The Company's information systems allow management to monitor its merchandising programs, store operations and expenses. The Company's operational controls provide it with cost efficiencies which reduce overhead while allowing the Company to provide high levels of service.

Value Oriented Sales Format. The Company's knowledgeable sales force is trained to provide professional, courteous service to all customers. The Company believes its low price policy, attention to customer satisfaction and deep product selection provide customers with superior value.

EXPANSION STRATEGY

When deciding whether to enter a new market or open another store in an existing market, the Company evaluates a number of criteria, including: size and growth pattern of the population, sales volume potential, and competition within the market area, including size, strength and merchandising philosophy of former, existing and potential competitors. In choosing specific sites, the Company applies standardized site selection criteria taking into account numerous factors, including: local demographics, real estate occupancy expense based upon ownership and/or leasing, cost of advertising, traffic patterns and overall retail activity. Stores typically are located on high traffic arteries, adjacent to or in major shopping malls, with adequate and safe lighted parking to support high sales volume.

The Company will either lease or purchase new store sites depending upon opportunities available to it and relative costs. Of the 20 new stores opened in fiscal 1999 and 1998, ten were leased sites and ten were Company purchased sites. For leased stores, the Company anticipates per store capital expenditures of approximately $75,000 to $250,000. This amount may increase significantly to the extent the Company is responsible for the remodeling or renovation of the new leased site. The Company anticipates expenditures of approximately $800,000 to $1,200,000 when it purchases real estate, which include the cost of the land purchased, building construction and fixtures. The purchase amount varies depending upon the size and location of the store. Historically, the Company has obtained long-term mortgage financing of approximately 75% of the cost of opening owned stores. Mortgage financing is generally obtained after a store is opened, either on a site by site or multiple store basis. The extent to which the Company will seek mortgage financing for owned stores will be dependent upon mortgage rates, terms and availability. The inventory requirements for new stores are estimated at $350,000 to $500,000 per store depending upon the season and store size. A portion of this inventory is financed through trade credit.

MERCHANDISING

Products

The Company offers a broad selection of brand name consumer electronics and home appliance products at a range of price points. The Company emphasizes depth of product selection within selected key product categories, with the greatest depth in televisions, VCRs, camcorders and audio equipment. The Company sells approximately 1,000 products produced by approximately 50 manufacturers. The Company's product categories include:

TELEVISIONS	VIDEO	AUDIO	APPLIANCES	OTHER
- - - - -	- - - - -	- - - - -	- - - - -	- - - - -
TVs	VCRs	Stereo Systems	Air Conditioners	Radar Detectors

The leading brands sold by the Company during fiscal 1999 (in alphabetical order) were General Electric, Hitachi, Hotpoint, JVC, Magnavox, Panasonic, Pioneer, RCA, Sharp, Whirlpool and Zenith.

All REX stores carry a full range of the Company's televisions, video and audio products, microwave ovens and air conditioners and a limited line of home office products, and 223 stores carry major appliances.

The following table shows the approximate percent of net sales for each major product group for the last three fiscal years.

Pricing

The Company's policy is to offer its products at everyday low prices combined with frequent special sales and promotions. The Company's retail prices are established by its merchandising department, but each district manager is responsible for monitoring the prices offered by competitors and has authority to adjust prices to meet local market conditions. The Company's commitment to offer guaranteed lowest prices is supported by the Company's guarantee to refund 125% of the difference in price if, within 30 days of purchase, a customer can locate the same item offered by a local competitor at a lower price.

Advertising

The Company uses a "price and item" approach in its advertising, stressing the offering of nationally recognized brands at significant savings. The emphasis of the Company's advertising is its "Guaranteed Lowest Price," which states "Our prices are guaranteed in writing. If you find any other local store stocking and offering to sell for less the identical item in a factory sealed box within 30 days after your REX purchase, we'll refund the difference plus an additional 25% of the difference." Advertisements are concentrated principally in newspapers and preprinted newspaper inserts, which are produced for the Company by an outside advertising agency and are supplemented by television and radio in certain markets. Advertisements are also complemented by in-store signage highlighting special values, including "Value Every Day," "Best Value," and "Top of the Line." The Company's advertising strategy includes preferred customer private mailers, special events such as "Midnight Madness Sales" and coupon sales to provide shopping excitement and generate traffic. Subsequent to year end the Company has been testing in certain markets increased television advertising and may use more television and radio advertising in the future.

Purchasing

The Company's merchandise purchasing is performed predominantly by three members of senior management. Each individual has responsibility for a specific product category, and two share appliance buying responsibility. Because the Company purchases merchandise in large volume, the Company believes it is able to obtain quality products at competitive prices and advertising subsidies from vendors to promote the sale of their products. For fiscal 1999, six vendors accounted for approximately 55% of the Company's purchases. The Company typically does not maintain long-term purchase contracts with vendors and operates principally on an order-by-order basis.

STORE OPERATIONS

Stores

The Company designs its stores to be "destination stores," generating their own traffic, but in the general vicinity of major retail shopping. Currently, approximately 150 stores are located in free-standing buildings, with the balance situated in strip shopping centers and malls. In fiscal 1998 and 1999, eight of the Company's ten new leased stores were in mall locations that provide exterior access and signage rights. The Company will select locations for future stores based on its evaluation of individual site economic and market conditions.

The Company's stores average approximately 10,900 square feet including storage space, not including the two stores located in the Company's regional distribution centers. Stores typically have, on average, approximately 7,600 square feet of selling space and approximately 3,300 square feet of storage. Stores are open seven days and six nights per week, except for certain holidays.

In fiscal 1999, the Company opened 12 new stores, with three stores each in Idaho and New York, two stores in Pennsylvania and one store each in Alabama, Florida, Ohio and South Carolina.

The Company's operations are divided into regional districts, containing from two to 12 stores whose managers report to a district manager. The Company's 38 district managers report to one of four regional vice presidents. Each store is staffed with a full-time manager and assistant manager, commissioned sales personnel and, in higher-traffic stores, seasonal support personnel. Store managers are paid on a commission basis and have the opportunity to earn bonuses based upon their store's sales and gross margins. Sales personnel work on a commission basis, or a combination of commissions and hourly wages.

The Company evaluates the performance of its stores on a continuous basis and, based on an assessment of factors it deems relevant, will close any store which is not adequately contributing to Company profitability. The Company closed 12, eight and six stores during fiscal 1997, 1998 and 1999, respectively.

Personnel

The Company trains its employees to explain and demonstrate to customers the use and operation of the Company's merchandise and to develop good salesmanship practices. The Company's in-house training program for new employees combines on-the-job training with use of a detailed Company-developed manual entitled "The REX Way." Sales personnel attend in-house training sessions conducted by experienced salespeople or manufacturers' representatives and receive sales, product and other information in meetings with managers.

The Company also has a manager-in-training program that consists of on-the-job training of the assistant manager at the store. The Company's policy is to staff store management positions with personnel promoted from within the Company and to staff new stores with existing managers or assistant managers.

Services

Virtually all of the products sold by the Company carry manufacturers' warranties and, except for its least expensive items, the Company offers extended service contracts to customers usually for an additional charge which typically provide one to five years of extended warranty coverage. The Company offers maintenance and repair services for most of the products which it sells. These services are generally subcontracted to independent repair firms.

The Company's return policy provides that any merchandise may be returned for exchange or refund within seven days of purchase if accompanied by original packaging material.

The Company accepts MasterCard, Visa and Discover. The Company estimates that, during fiscal 1999, approximately 31% of its total sales were made on these credit cards, and approximately 11% were made on installment credit contracts arranged through banks or independent finance companies which bear the credit risk of these contracts.

Distribution

The Company's stores are supplied by regional distribution centers which consist of a 315,000 square foot leased facility in Dayton, Ohio and a 180,000 square foot owned facility in Pensacola, Florida, of which the Company leases 90,000 square feet to an outside company. The Company also leases a 67,000 square foot auxiliary warehouse in Pensacola, Florida. The Company purchased land and during fiscal 1998 built a 145,000 square foot distribution center in Cheyenne, Wyoming at a total cost of approximately $3.0 million. The Cheyenne distribution center began operations in March 1998.

The regional distribution centers reduce inventory requirements at individual stores, while preserving the benefits of volume purchasing and facilitating centralized inventory and accounting controls. Virtually all of the Company's merchandise is distributed through its distribution centers, with the exception of major appliances which are often shipped directly by the vendor to the retail location. All deliveries to stores are made by independent contract carriers.

Management Information Systems

The Company has developed a computerized management information system which operates an internally developed software package. The Company's computer system provides management with the information necessary to manage inventory by stock keeping unit ("SKU"), monitor sales and store activity on a daily basis, capture marketing and customer information, track productivity by salesperson and control the Company's accounting operations.

The host computer is integrated with the Company's point-of-sale system which serves as the collection mechanism for all sales activity. The combined system provides for next-day review of inventory levels, sales by store and by SKU and commissions earned, assists in cash management and enables management to track merchandise from receipt at the distribution center until time of sale.

As is the case with most business organizations, the Company utilizes software and related technology that are date sensitive and may be affected by the date change which will occur in the year 2000. Reference should be made to Part II, Item 7 "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" for further discussion of the Year 2000 issue.

COMPETITION

The Company's business is characterized by substantial competition. The Company's competitors include other specialty electronics retailers, department stores, discount stores, furniture stores, warehouse clubs and catalog showrooms. Some of these competitors have greater financial and other resources than the Company. Competition within the Company's industry is based upon price, breadth of product selection, product quality and customer service.

FACILITIES

One hundred and ten of the Company's stores are located in buildings owned by the Company. The remaining 118 stores operate on leased premises, with the unexpired terms of the leases ranging from one year to 26 years, inclusive of options to renew, except for four month to month leases. For fiscal 1999, the total net rent expense for the Company's leased facilities was approximately $6,932,000.

To date, the Company has not experienced difficulty in securing leases or purchasing sites for suitable locations for its stores. The Company continues to remodel and upgrade existing stores as appropriate. In addition, to minimize construction costs, the Company has developed prototype formats for new store construction.

EMPLOYEES

At January 31, 1999, the Company had 142 hourly and salaried employees and 899 sales employees. The Company also employs additional personnel during peak selling seasons. None of the Company's employees are represented by a labor union. The Company considers its relationship with its employees to be satisfactory.

SERVICE MARKS

The Company has registered its rights in its service mark "REX" with the United States Patent and Trademark Office. The Company is not aware of any adverse claims concerning its service mark.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

OVERVIEW

The Company is a leader in the consumer electronics/appliance retailing industry, operating predominantly in small to medium sized markets under the trade name "REX." Since acquiring its first four stores in 1980, the Company has expanded into a national chain operating 228 stores in 35 states. The Company has focused on maintaining strict cost controls, offering customers a broad selection of merchandise at "everyday low prices" and expansion within small to medium sized markets where its low cost structure and operating strategy enhance its ability to become a dominant retailer.

During fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997, the Company opened 12, eight, and 35 stores, respectively. The Company closed six, eight and 12 stores in fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively. Comparable store sales were flat for fiscal 1999 after declining 10.5% and 17.5% in fiscal 1998 and 1997, respectively. The Company considers a store to be comparable after it has been open six full fiscal quarters. Comparable store sales comparisons do not include sales of extended service contracts.

EXTENDED SERVICE CONTRACTS

The Company's extended service contract revenues, net of sales commissions, are deferred and amortized on a straight-line basis over the life of the contracts after the expiration of applicable manufacturers' warranty periods. Terms of coverage, including the manufacturers' warranty periods, are usually for periods of 12 to 60 months. Extended service contract revenues represented 3.7%, 3.5% and 2.9% of net sales for fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively. Service contract costs are charged to operations as incurred. Gross profit realized from extended service contract revenues was $10.3 million, $11.0 million and $9.6 million in fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, the relative percentages that certain income and expense items bear to net sales:

	Fiscal Year Ended January 31,
	1999	1998	1997
Net sales	100.0%	100.0%	100.0%

COMPARISON OF FISCAL YEARS ENDED JANUARY 31, 1999 AND 1998

Net sales in fiscal 1999 were $416.7 million, a 1.4% increase from the $411.0 million achieved in fiscal 1998. This increase was caused by the addition of 12 stores opened in the current fiscal year and the first full year of sales for eight stores opened in the previous fiscal year. Comparable store sales for fiscal 1999 were flat in comparison to fiscal 1998. During fiscal 1999, the Company opened 12 stores and closed six, while during fiscal 1998 the Company opened eight stores and closed eight. The Company had 228 and 222 stores open at January 31, 1999 and 1998, respectively.

Comparable store sales benefited from increases in the audio (approximately 1.4%) and appliance categories (approximately 1.3%), as well as ready to assemble (RTA) furniture (approximately 1.0%). The increase in sales for appliances and RTA furniture is a result of expanded offerings in both categories. Subsequent to yearend, the Company added Maytag products to its appliance line and as such would expect the appliance business to continue to show improvement in the future.

Comparable store sales were negatively impacted by the television (approximately 0.1%) and video products categories (approximately 2.7%) and the Company's decision to discontinue selling personal computers during fiscal 1998 (approximately 1.0%). Television and video products were negatively impacted by a continued decline in average selling prices. There was also a general softness in demand for video products due to the pending transition to digital products. There will not be a continuing effect in fiscal 2000 on comparable store sales from personal computers as the Company sold a limited number of personal computers in fiscal 1999.

Gross profit of $113.8 million in fiscal 1999 (27.3% of net sales) was 0.5% higher than the $113.2 million (27.6% of net sales) recorded the prior year. The reduced gross profit margin, as a percent of sales, was primarily the result of the changes in merchandise sales mix discussed above.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for fiscal 1999 were $93.6 (22.4% of net sales), a 0.5% decline from $94.1 million (22.9% of net sales) in fiscal 1998. The decrease in expense was primarily due to lower advertising expenditures in certain markets (approximately $2.3 million), partially offset by an increase in compensation expense (approximately $1.2 million) resulting from increased total sales and profits.

Income from operations was $20.2 (4.9% of net sales) in fiscal 1999, a 5.2% increase from $19.2 million (4.7% of net sales) for fiscal 1998. The increase was primarily due to increased total sales and controls over advertising expenditures.

Interest expense decreased to $6.4 million in fiscal 1999 from $7.1 million in fiscal 1998. The decrease in interest expense is primarily attributable to lower borrowings on the line of credit (average outstanding borrowings of approximately $15.8 million in fiscal 1999 versus approximately $22.2 million in fiscal 1998).

During fiscal 1999, the Company sold two shopping centers in which it had previously operated retail stores. The Company recorded a gain of approximately $2.4 million from the sale of this real estate.

Results for the fiscal year ended January 31, 1999 also reflect the impact of the Company's $3.2 million equity investment in two limited partnerships which produce synthetic fuels. The Company recorded a pre-tax charge of approximately $1.3 million to record its share of the partnerships' operating losses. The Company's effective tax rate was also reduced to 26.3% in fiscal 1999 from 39.5% in fiscal 1998, as a result of the Company's share of Federal tax credits earned by the partnerships under Section 29 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Effective February 1, 1999, the Company entered into an agreement to sell a portion of its investment in one of the limited partnerships, which will result in a reduction in the Company's ownership interest from 30% to 17%. The total sales proceeds to be received by the Company are contingent upon the amount of Federal income tax credits generated by the limited partnership attributable to the 13% interest sold by the Company. The Company will receive cash proceeds on a quarterly basis beginning in the first quarter of fiscal 2000 (April 30, 1999). The Company does not anticipate that the sale of this interest will result in a loss.

As a result of the foregoing, net income was $11.2 and $7.4 million for fiscal 1999 and 1998, respectively.

COMPARISON OF FISCAL YEARS ENDED JANUARY 31, 1998 AND 1997

Net sales in fiscal 1998 were $411.0, a 3.8% decrease from the $427.4 million achieved in fiscal 1997. This decrease was caused by a decline of 10.5% in comparable store sales, partially offset by the first full year of sales for 35 stores opened in the previous fiscal year. During fiscal 1998, the Company opened eight stores and closed eight, while during fiscal 1997 the Company opened 35 stores and closed 12. The Company had 222 stores open at both January 31, 1998 and 1997.

Comparable stores sales were negatively impacted by the Company's decision to discontinue selling personal computers (approximately 2.0%) and general weakness in the video, audio and television categories partly due to the approaching transition to digital technology, declining prices and increased competition. The decision to discontinue selling personal computers will continue to negatively impact comparable store sales in fiscal 1999. The appliance category continued to expand (overall 4.1% increase) as the Company had expanded its offering and marketing efforts of this category. The Company also recognized a higher amount of extended service contract revenues on the straight-line basis as higher sales levels from recent years began to amortize.

Gross profit of $113.2 million in fiscal 1998 (27.6% of net sales) was 3.3% higher than the $109.6 million (25.6% of net sales) recorded in the prior year. The improved gross profit margin, as a percent of sales, was primarily the result of lower merchandise cost on certain products due to opportunistic purchasing and the recognition of a higher amount of extended service contract revenues, which generally have a higher gross profit margin.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for fiscal 1998 were $94.1 million (22.9% of net sales), a 2.4% increase over the $91.9 million (21.5% of net sales) in fiscal 1997. The increase in expense was primarily due to an increase in incentive commissions for sales personnel (approximately $2.6 million). Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percent of net sales also increased due to the decline in comparable store sales.

Income from operations was $19.2 million (4.7% of net sales) in fiscal 1998, an 8.5% increase from the $17.7 million (4.1% of net sales) for fiscal 1997. The increase was primarily due to the improved gross profit margin.

Interest expense increased to $7.1 million in fiscal 1998 from $5.6 million in fiscal 1997. The increase in interest expense is primarily attributable to additional mortgage debt outstanding for the full fiscal year on stores opened in fiscal 1997 (average outstanding borrowings of approximately $55.1 million in fiscal 1998 compared to $40.8 million and fiscal 1997).

The effective tax rate was 39.5% for fiscal 1998 and 1997.

As a result of the foregoing, net income was $7.4 million in fiscal 1998 and 1997.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company's primary sources of financing have been cash flow provided by net income, mortgages on owned properties and borrowings under its revolving line of credit.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $10.2 million and $35.5 million for fiscal 1999 and 1998, respectively. For fiscal 1999, operating cash flow was provided by net income of $11.2 million adjusted for the net impact of non-cash items of $1.0 million, which primarily consisted of depreciation, the gain on sale of real estate and the Company's equity interest in the losses of the limited partnership investments. Cash was also provided by an increase in accounts payable of $2.8 million, primarily due to extended payment terms and the timing of payments to vendors. Cash was used by an increase in inventory of $5.5 million generally due to the timing of purchases.

For fiscal 1998, operating cash flow was provided by net income of $7.4 million and $200,000 of deferred income from sales of extended service contracts, adjusted for other non-cash charges of $2.0 million. Cash was provided by a decrease in inventory of $8.5 million, primarily as a result of the discontinuation of the sale of personal computers and a general inventory reduction in the consumer electronics categories due to lower demand. Cash was also provided by an increase in accounts payable of $18.6 million due to the timing of purchases and extended payment terms from various vendors.

At January 31, 1999, working capital was $77.4 million compared to $77.3 million at January 31, 1998. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 1.9 to 1 at January 31, 1999 compared to 2.0 to 1 at January 31, 1998.

Capital expenditures in fiscal 1999 totaled $12.7 million. Expenditures were primarily to open 12 retail stores (approximately $7.9 million), relocate two stores (approximately $2.1 million) and the purchase of three previously leased stores (approximately $2.1 million). In fiscal 1999, the Company also invested $3.2 million in two synthetic fuel limited partnerships. Capital expenditures in fiscal 1998 totaled $8.0 million and were primarily associated with the opening of eight stores and the construction of a distribution center in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

During fiscal 1999, the Company purchased 632,000 shares of its common stock for $7.5 million. During fiscal 1998, the Company purchased 567,000 shares of its common stock for $5.0 million. At January 31, 1999, the Company is authorized by its Board of Directors to purchase an additional 465,000 shares of its common stock and all shares purchased will be held in treasury for possible future use.

Subsequent to January 31, 1999, the Company received total proceeds of approximately $1.7 million from the exercise by employees of 512,079 of non-qualified stock options at a price of $3.38 per share.

The Company has a revolving credit agreement with seven banks through July 31, 2000, with interest at prime or LIBOR plus 1.875%. Amounts available for borrowing are equal to the lesser of (i) $100 million for the months of January through June and $150 million for the months of July through December or (ii) the sum of specified percentages of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventories, as defined. Amounts available for borrowing are reduced by any letter of credit commitments outstanding.

At January 31, 1999 and 1998, no borrowings were outstanding on the revolving credit agreement. A total of approximately $84.1 million was available at January 31, 1999. Borrowing levels vary during the course of a year based on the Company's seasonal working capital needs. The maximum direct borrowings outstanding during fiscal 1999 were approximately $41.9 million, which existed immediately prior to the Christmas selling season due to the build-up of seasonal inventory requirements. The weighted average interest rate was 9.6% (including commitment fees) for fiscal 1999. The revolving credit agreement contains restrictive covenants which require the Company to maintain specified levels of consolidated tangible net worth and limit capital expenditures and the incurrence of additional indebtedness. The revolving credit agreement also places restrictions on common stock repurchases and the payment of dividends.

At January 31, 1999, the Company had approximately $58.6 million of mortgage debt outstanding (including $7.0 million obtained in fiscal 1999 from mortgaging eight properties) at a weighted average interest rate of 8.8%, with maturities from 2000 to 2014. The Company has balloon payments due totaling approximately $800,000 over the next two fiscal years, which the Company expects to either refinance with long-term mortgage debt or satisfy through borrowings on the revolving credit agreement.

SEASONALITY AND QUARTERLY FLUCTUATIONS

The Company's business is seasonal. As is the case with many other retailers, the Company's net sales and net income are greatest in its fourth fiscal quarter, which includes the Christmas selling season. The fourth fiscal quarter accounted for 34.5% and 35.2% of net sales and 49.8% and 50.4% of income from operations in fiscal 1999 and 1998, respectively. Year to year comparisons of quarterly results of operations and comparable store sales can be affected by a variety of factors, including the duration of the holiday selling season, weather conditions and the timing of new store openings.

IMPACT OF INFLATION

The impact of inflation has not been material to the Company's results of operations for the past three fiscal years.

RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 133, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities", which requires companies to recognize all derivative contracts at their fair values, as either assets or liabilities on the balance sheet. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are recorded each period in current earnings or other comprehensive income, depending on whether a derivative is designed as part of a hedge transaction and, if it is, the type of hedge transaction. The Company does not expect the adoption of SFAS No. 133 to have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements because the Company does not currently hold any derivative instruments.

YEAR 2000 ISSUE

The statements in this section include "Year 2000 readiness disclosure" within the meaning of the Year 2000 Information and Readiness Disclosure Act.

Certain software and hardware systems are time sensitive. Older time sensitive systems often use a two digit dating convention ("00" rather than "2000") that could result in system failure and disruption of operations as the Year 2000 approaches. This is referred to as the Year 2000 issue. The Year 2000 issue will impact the Company, its suppliers, customers and other third parties that transact business with the Company.

The Company has a staff of internal resources (the "Year 2000 Team") to address Year 2000 issues. This team believes that it has identified substantially all hardware and software systems within the Company which may be susceptible to Year 2000 issues. Projects have been established to address all significant Year 2000 issues. The Year 2000 Team reports regularly to senior management on the progress of significant Year 2000 projects.

Most Year 2000 activities are to test hardware and software systems, including non-information technology systems such as telephones and store security systems. The Company has determined that it needs to modify some of its software. The Company believes all hardware systems are Year 2000 compliant. The Company is reprogramming all of the systems impacted by Year 2000 issues and these efforts were substantially complete by January 31, 1999. The testing of these reprogramming efforts is currently in process. The Company is also currently working with outside vendors on the compliance status of telephones and store security systems.

The Company has initiated communications with significant suppliers, customers and other relevant third parties that transact business with the Company to identify and minimize disruptions to the Company's operations and to assist in resolving Year 2000 issues. However, there can be no certainty that the impacted systems and products of other parties on which the Company relies will be Year 2000 compliant.

The Company generally believes that its vendors who supply products to the Company for resale are responsible for Year 2000 functionality of those products. However, should product failures occur, the Company may be required to address the administrative aspects of those failures, such as handling product returns or repairs.

The estimated cost for resolving Year 2000 issues are approximately $175,000. Most of these costs are labor related to reprogramming existing software. Estimates of Year 2000 costs are based on numerous assumptions; actual costs could be greater than estimates. Specific factors that might cause such differences include, but are not limited to, the continuing availability of personnel trained in this area and the ability to timely identify and correct all relevant software and hardware systems.

While the Company believes it is diligently addressing the Year 2000 issues to ensure Year 2000 readiness, there can be no absolute assurance that the objective will be achieved either internally or as it relates to third parties. The Company anticipates completing substantially all of its Year 2000 projects by July 31, 1999. In the event the Company falls short of these milestones, additional internal resources will be focused on completing these projects or implementing contingency plans.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Form 10-K contains or may contain forward-looking statements as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The words "believes", "estimates", "plans", "expects", "intends", "anticipates" and similar expressions as they relate to the Company or its management are intended to identify such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are inherently subject to risks and uncertainties. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements are set forth in Exhibit 99 to this report.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

As of January 31, 1999, the Company had financial instruments which were sensitive to changes in interest rates. These financial instruments consist of a revolving credit agreement and various mortgage notes payable secured by certain land, buildings and leasehold improvements.

The revolving credit agreement expires on July 31, 2000. Available revolving credit borrowings are equal to the lesser of: (i) $100 million for the months of January through June and $150 million for the months of July through December or (ii) the sum of specified percentages of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventories, as defined. The interest rate charged on borrowings is prime or LIBOR plus 1.875% and commitment fees of 1/4% are payable on the unused portion. There were no borrowings outstanding at January 31, 1999.

Substantially all of the mortgage notes payable consist of fixed rate debt. The interest rates are fixed from two to 15 years and range from 6.9% to 9.95%. Principal and interest are payable monthly over terms which generally range from 10 to 15 years. Substantially all of the notes payable require balloon payments at the end of the scheduled term. The fair value of the Company's long-term mortgage debt at January 31, 1999 was approximately $60.9 million. The fair value was estimated based on rates available to the Company for debt with similar terms and maturities.

Maturities of long-term debt are as follows (in thousands):

The accompanying notes to consolidated financial statements are an integral part of these consolidated statements.

REX STORES CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEARS ENDED JANUARY 31, 1999 AND 1998

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES-

- (a) Principles of Consolidation--The accompanying financial statements consolidate the operating results and financial position of REX Stores Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiaries (the Company). All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated. The Company operates 228 retail consumer electronics and appliance stores under the REX name in 35 states.
- (b) Use of Estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- (c) Cash Equivalents--Cash equivalents are principally short-term investments with original maturities of less than three months. The carrying amount of cash equivalents is a reasonable estimate of fair value.
- (d) Merchandise Inventory--Substantially all inventory is valued at the lower of average cost or market, which approximates cost on a first-in, first-out (FIFO) basis, including certain costs associated with purchasing, warehousing and transporting merchandise. The inventory of an acquired subsidiary, Kelly & Cohen Appliances, Inc. (K&C), is valued at the lower of cost or market using the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method. Following the lower of cost or market principle, the K&C inventory value using the LIFO method ($32,405,000 and $30,203,000 at January 31, 1999 and 1998, respectively) is equivalent to the FIFO value for all years presented. Six suppliers accounted for approximately 55% of the Company's purchases in 1999.
- (e) Property and Equipment--Property and equipment is recorded at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method. Estimated useful lives are 15 to 40 years for buildings and improvements, and 3 to 12 years for fixtures and equipment. Leasehold improvements are depreciated over 10 to 12 years. The components of property and equipment at January 31, 1999 and 1998 are as follows:

	(In thousands)
Land	$ 26,716	$ 24,779
Buildings and improvements	64,586	59,006
Fixtures and equipment	15,477	14,615
Leasehold improvements	10,217	9,747
	-----	-----
	116,996	108,147
Less: accumulated depreciation	(18,105)	(14,982)
	-----	-----
	$ 98,891	$ 93,165

In accordance with SFAS No. 121 "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of", the carrying value of long-lived assets is assessed for recoverability by management when changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable, based on an analysis of undiscounted future expected cash flows from the use and ultimate disposition of the asset. There were no material impairment losses incurred in the fiscal years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997.

- (f) Restricted Investments--Restricted investments, which are principally marketable securities, are stated at cost plus accrued interest, which approximates market. The carrying amount of restricted investments approximates fair value. Restricted investments at January 31, 1999 and 1998 are restricted by two states to cover possible future claims under product service contracts.
- (g) Revenue Recognition--The Company recognizes sales of products upon receipt by the customer. The Company will honor returns from customers within seven days from the date of sale. The Company establishes liabilities for estimated returns at the point of sale.

The Company also sells product service contracts covering periods beyond the normal manufacturers' warranty periods, usually with terms of coverage (including manufacturers' warranty periods) of between 12 to 60 months. Contract revenues, net of sales commissions, are deferred and amortized on a straight-line basis over the life of the contracts after the expiration of applicable manufacturers' warranty periods. The Company retains the obligation to perform warranty services and such costs are charged to operations as incurred.

- (h) Interest Cost--Interest expense of $6,448,000, $7,143,000 and $5,624,000 for the years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively, is net of approximately $238,000, $33,000 and $193,000 of interest capitalized related to store construction. Total interest expense approximates interest paid for all years presented.
- (i) Loan Acquisition Costs--Direct expenses and fees associated with obtaining notes payable or long-term mortgage debt are capitalized and amortized to interest expense over the life of the loan.
- (j) Advertising Costs--Advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising expense was approximately $30,468,000, $32,813,000 and $33,473,000 in 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively.
- (k) Store Opening and Closing Costs--Store opening costs are expensed as incurred. The costs associated with closing stores are accrued when the decision is made to close a location. Store closing costs incurred in the fiscal years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997 were not material.

(2) INVESTMENT IN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS-

During fiscal 1999, the Company invested $3,150,000 in two limited partnerships which produce synthetic fuels. The Company accounts for its ownership interest in the limited partnerships, which approximates 30%, under the equity method. The Company recorded a pre-tax charge of $1,312,000 in fiscal 1999 to reflect its equity in the losses of the limited partnerships. The limited partnerships also earn Federal income tax credits under Section 29 of the Internal Revenue Code based upon the quantity and content of synthetic fuel production. The Company accounts for its share of the income tax credits (approximately $2,000,000 earned in fiscal 1999) as a reduction of the income tax provision in the period earned (See Note 9).

(3) NET INCOME PER SHARE-

The Company reports net income per share in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 128 "Earnings per Share."

Basic net income per share is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted net income per share is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of common and common equivalent shares outstanding during the year. Common share equivalents include the number of shares issuable upon the exercise of outstanding options, less the shares that could be purchased with the proceeds from the exercise of the options, based on the average trading price of the Company's common stock for 1999, 1998 and 1997.

The following table reconciles the basic and diluted net income per share computations for each year presented:

	Income	Shares	Per Share
	-----	-----	-----
Basic net income per share	$11,195	7,427	$1.51
Effect of stock options	--	406
	-----	-----
Diluted net income per share	$11,195	7,833	$1.43
	=====	=====	=====

	Income	Shares	Per Share
	-----	-----	-----
Basic net income per share	$7,412	7,919	$0.94
	-----	-----
Diluted net income per share	$7,412	8,178	$0.91
	=====	=====	=====

	1997
	Income	Shares	Per Share
	-----	-----	-----
Basic net income per share	$7,362	8,948	$0.82
Effect of stock options	--	271
	-----	-----

For the years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997, a total of 1,164,000, 1,413,000, and 1,509,000 shares, subject to outstanding options were not included in the common equivalent shares calculation as the exercise prices were above the average trading price of the Company's common stock for those periods.

SFAS No. 128 replaced the calculation of primary and fully diluted net income per share under previous accounting standards with basic and diluted net income per share. As a result of adopting SFAS No. 128, the Company restated primary net income per share of $0.80 to basic net income per share of $0.82 for the year ended January 31, 1997. There was no impact of restating fully diluted net income per share to diluted net income per share for the year ended January 31, 1997.

(4) COMMON STOCK TRANSACTIONS-

During the years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997, the Company purchased 632,000, 567,000 and 854,000 shares of its common stock for $7,468,000, $5,018,000 and $7,486,000, respectively. The Company is authorized by its Board of Directors to purchase an additional 465,000 shares of its common stock and all shares purchased will be held in treasury for possible future use.

(5) REVOLVING LINE OF CREDIT-

The Company has a revolving credit agreement with seven banks which expires on July 31, 2000. Under the terms of the agreement, available revolving credit borrowings are equal to the lesser of: (i) $100 million for the months of January through June and $150 million for the months of July through December or (ii) the sum of specified percentages of eligible accounts receivable and eligible inventories, as defined. Borrowings available are reduced by any letter of credit commitments outstanding. The Company had no outstanding borrowings under the revolving credit agreement at January 31, 1999 and January 31, 1998. At January 31, 1999, a total of approximately $84.1 million was available for borrowings under the revolving credit agreement.

The interest rate charged on borrowings is prime or LIBOR plus 1.875% and commitment fees of 1/4% are payable on the unused portion. Borrowings are secured by certain fixed assets, accounts receivable and inventories.

The revolving credit agreement contains restrictive covenants which require the Company to maintain specified levels of consolidated tangible net worth and limit capital expenditures and the incurrence of additional indebtedness. The revolving credit agreement also places restrictions on the amount of common stock repurchases and the payment of dividends.

(6) LONG-TERM MORTGAGE DEBT-

Long-term mortgage debt consists of notes payable secured by certain land, buildings and leasehold improvements. Interest rates range from 6.9% to 9.95%. Principal and interest are payable monthly over terms which generally range from 10 to 15 years. Substantially all of the notes payable require balloon payments at the end of the scheduled term.

Maturities of long-term debt are as follows (in thousands):

Year Ending January 31, -----	Amount -----
2000	$ 3,114
2001	4,060
2002	6,166
2003	5,067
2004	5,325
Thereafter	34,860

	$58,592

The fair value of the Company's long-term debt at January 31, 1999 and 1998 was approximately $60.9 million and $56.6 million, respectively. The fair value was estimated based on rates available to the Company for debt with similar terms and maturities.

(7) EMPLOYEE BENEFITS-

Stock Option Plans--The Company maintains the REX Stores Corporation 1995 Omnibus Stock Incentive Plan (the Omnibus Plan). Under the Omnibus Plan, the Company may grant to officers and key employees awards in the form of incentive stock options, non-qualified stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock, other stock-based awards and cash incentive awards. The Omnibus Plan also provides for yearly grants of non-qualified stock options to directors who are not employees of the Company. The exercise price of each stock based award must be at least 100% of the fair market value of the Company's common stock on the date of grant. A maximum of 2,000,000 shares of common stock are authorized for issuance under the Omnibus Plan and at January 31, 1999, 21,405 shares remained available for issuance. At January 31, 1999, 91,559 stock options also remained outstanding under the 1984 Incentive Stock Option Plan which expired in fiscal 1995.

On October 14, 1998, the Company's Board of Directors approved a grant of non-qualified stock options to two key executives for 650,000 shares at an exercise price of $9.94 per share, which represented the market price on the date of grant. These options vest over a three-year period commencing on December 31, 2000, and all of these options remained outstanding at January 31, 1999. At January 31, 1999, non-qualified stock options awarded in 1989 also remained outstanding and exercisable for 512,079 shares at an exercise price of $3.38 per share, which represented the market price on the date of grant. All 512,079 of these non-qualified stock options were exercised subsequent to year-end on March 23, 1999.

On February 26, 1997, the Company's Board of Directors approved a re-pricing of 362,035 stock options, with exercise prices ranging from $13.00 to $18.98 per share, to the market price as of the date of approval of $8.13 per share. Stock options held by employees who are members of the Board of Directors and stock options held by Non-Employee Directors were not re-priced.

The Company accounts for its stock-based compensation plans under APB Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees", under which no compensation cost has been recognized. Had compensation cost for these plans been determined at fair value consistent with SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation", the Company's net income and net income per share would have been reduced to the following pro forma amounts:

		----	----	----
Net income (000's):	As reported	$ 11,195	$ 7,412	$ 7,362
	Pro forma	9,370	6,167	5,932
Basic net income per share:	As reported	$ 1.51	$ 0.94	$ 0.82
	Pro forma	1.26	0.78	0.66
Diluted net income per share:	As reported	$ 1.43	$ 0.91	$ 0.80
	Pro forma	1.25	0.79	0.72

The fair values of options granted were estimated as of the date of grant using a Black-Scholes option pricing model with the following weighted average assumptions used for grants in fiscal 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively: risk-free interest rate of 5.7%, 5.7% and 6.3%; expected volatility of 39.2%, 41.5% and 46.7%; and a weighted average stock option life of 9 years, 5 years and 5 years. In accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123, the fair value method of accounting was not applied to options granted prior to February 1, 1995 in estimating the pro forma amounts. Therefore, the pro forma effect on net income and net income per share may not be representative of that to be expected in future years.

The following summarizes stock option activity for the years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997 (options granted and cancelled during fiscal 1998 include the effect of the February 26, 1997 re-pricing):

Profit Sharing Plan--The Company has a qualified, noncontributory profit sharing plan covering full-time employees who meet certain eligibility requirements. The Plan also provides for allows 401(k) savings contributions by participants with certain Company matching contributions. Aggregate contributions to the Plan are determined annually by the Board of Directors and are not to exceed 15% of total compensation paid to all participants during such year. The Company contributed matching amounts of approximately $36,000, $31,000 and $28,000 for the years ended January 31, 1999, 1998 and 1997, respectively, under the Plan.

(8) LEASES AND COMMITMENTS-

The Company is committed under operating leases for certain warehouse and retail store locations. The lease agreements are for varying terms through 2007 and contain renewal options for additional periods. Real estate taxes, insurance and maintenance costs are generally paid by the Company. Contingent rentals based on sales volume are not significant. Certain leases contain scheduled rent increases and rent expense is recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the leases.

On August 30, 1989, the Company completed a transaction for the sale and leaseback of certain stores and warehouse facilities under an initial 15-year lease term. This transaction resulted in a pre-tax financial statement gain of $15.6 million, which was deferred and is being amortized as a reduction to lease expense over the term of the leases. The unamortized deferred gain at January 31, 1999 was approximately $4.6 million.

During the year ended January 31, 1999, the Company purchased three store locations that were leased pursuant to the sale/leaseback. For financial statement purposes, the purchase of these three stores resulted in approximately $660,000 of the deferred gain associated with the sale/leaseback being recorded as a reduction in the carrying value of properties purchased.

The following is a summary of rent expense under operating leases (in thousands):

Years ended January 31, -----	Minimum Rentals -----	Gain Amortization -----	Sublease Income -----	Total -----
1999	$9,729	$ (943)	$ (1,854)	$6,932

(10) CONTINGENCIES-

The Company is involved in various legal actions arising in the normal course of business. After taking into consideration legal counsels' evaluation of such actions, management is of the opinion that their outcome will not have a significant effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Report of Independent Public Accountants

To the Shareholders and Board of Directors of REX Stores Corporation:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of REX Stores Corporation (a Delaware corporation) and subsidiaries as of January 31, 1999 and 1998, and the related consolidated statements of income, shareholders' equity and cash flows for each of the three fiscal years in the period ended January 31, 1999. These consolidated financial statements and the schedule referred to below are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements and the schedule based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of REX Stores Corporation and subsidiaries as of January 31, 1999 and 1998, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three fiscal years in the period ended January 31, 1999, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole. The schedule listed under Part IV, Item 14(a)(2) is presented for purposes of complying with the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and is not part of the basic consolidated financial statements. This schedule has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audits of the basic consolidated financial statements and, in our opinion, fairly states in all material respects the financial data required to be set forth therein in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.
